SCHOOL

Welcome

2016 was a good year for Simon's MS employment within all major disciplines.

84 percent of those students seeking employment found jobs at firms like PwC, Gartner, JPMorgan Chase & Co., L'Oreal, and The Hertz Corporation within three months of graduation.

The number of postings from alumni and employers worldwide for MS candidates has continued to grow. Our business development team has increased by 20 percent the number of companies open to sponsoring Simon international candidates this year to over 60 percent. We are continuing that effort on the East Coast and West Coast in key industries such as financial services, consulting, transportation and logistics, and technology, which combined hired nearly 80 percent of our graduates this year.

Our career programming is among the best in the country, and we have dedicated career consultants for each major full-time program. We proactively connect MS students with UR/Simon alumni who are working in the fields of interest to our students.

We look forward to another good year—and to interacting and working with you in the future.

Career Management Center (CMC)

Get the career you want.

Career Fairs and Corporate Tours

The Career Management Center partners with student clubs to bring Simon talent to major cities around the country. In addition, the CMC attends several national career fairs, sponsors corporate tours, and facilitates engagement opportunities with alumni in NYC.

Dedicated CMC Staff

Each full-time MS program is assigned an experienced personal career consultant, who meets with students, advises them, helps prepare positioning materials, and facilitates networking opportunities.

Extensive CMC Training

Career preparation begins before orientation with "Day 1," an online program for creating job search tools, and continues into Orientation and Pre-Fall. Through CMC programming, students develop and hone skills that are integral to success in the job market.

Ongoing Market Research

We regularly survey our MS students about their career preferences and reach out to relevant employers to generate opportunities for students in all of our degree programs.
